IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The live broadcast of “SATCOMRUS-2020” will be organized on the main page of the official conference website at <https://satcomrus.com/> where in the media player window you will need to enter a unique passcode (you will receive it from the representatives of the “SATCOMRUS” organizing committee on the eve of the event).

We ask you to connect to the live broadcast in advance, starting from 9:45 am, so that at 10:00 am you will have no problems with player loading.

IMPORTANT!

Please note that the passcode that you received to access the broadcast is a UNIQUE one, and only you are allowed to use it.

If your code is disclosed to another person, access to the broadcast may be restricted (because only one attendee may watch the broadcast under each unique code).

The conference program and brochure will be available on the website of the event at <https://satcomrus.com/>. Materials of speeches and presentations in PDF format will be available for registered conference attendees at the end of the conference.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS FOR VIEWING

AVAILABLE FEATURES FOR ONLINE ATTENDEES

While watching an online broadcast you can pause, then - on occasion - resume viewing from the same place by clicking on the "play" button.

The player has the rewind function for rewinding the records to an earlier time during online broadcast. To see the repetition of the past moment, you need to move the "slider" to the desired time point. To return to online viewing - move the "slider" to the end of the right corner or click on the "live broadcast" button and then the live broadcast will resume.

Depending on the rate of the user's Internet connection it is possible to select the best quality of viewing. For example, if the broadcast is interrupted often, it is recommended to change the quality to a lower quality. This feature is recommended for viewing online broadcast from your smart phone.

Simultaneous Russian/English translation will be provided during the conference. To select a language, select the relevant audio track in the player used to view the broadcast.

DOCUMENTS

if you need closing documents, please contact within a week after the end of the conference.
